Student Resource Access: Accounts, Approved Apps and AI Platforms (Section 1)

Source: web page, section 'Student Resource Access - Section 1'

Every student will be provided a username and password, providing access to Google Services.

A list of District approved Apps for Google, Apple, and Chromebook devices are available for review at the educational technology department.

Schoology is the District’s Learning Management System … All students will have an account with a username and password. Internal communication will be managed to allow students and guardians to communicate with the classroom teacher but not with other members of the system.

The District permits students to use approved Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools to enhance learning and practice skills, not to replace the student’s own effort or critical thinking. All AI tools must be age-appropriate and used under the guidance of a teacher. To protect student privacy, only AI tools that have been officially vetted and approved, which guarantee that student data is not used to train the AI mode and comply with all applicable privacy laws (e.g. FERPA, COPPA) may be used.

Filtering and Monitoring: Expectation of Privacy (Section 2)

At any time and without prior notice, Campbell County School District (CCSD) reserves the right to monitor, inspect, copy, review, and store any and all usage of technology devices, digital resources, and network infrastructure, along with information technology and any information sent or received in connection with this usage. Staff and students should not have any expectation of privacy regarding such materials.

Filtering and Monitoring: Monitoring (Section 2)

The District monitors the use of its network to protect the integrity and optimal operation of all computer and system networks. There is no expectation of privacy related to information stored and transmitted over the District network. The information on the network in general files and email is not private and is subject to review.

Technicians and computer system administrators have full access rights to the storage devices they manage as part of their duties. Routine maintenance and monitoring of the system could lead to the discovery that a user has or is violating District policies, state laws, or federal laws. Search of particular files of a user could be conducted if there was reasonable suspicion that a user has violated the law or Campbell County School District policies.

The District through the use of technology provides students with enriching and innovative opportunities. As the audience we communicate with expands, students may have the opportunity to have their photograph, video, recording, and/or student digital projects shared or published on websites and other media, or through the District.

Unless otherwise noted in Student Policy 5147-Student Records, the following will apply:

- No portrait style photographs or photographs containing personal identifiers will be allowed.
- Students' last names are never published.
- Students' home addresses, email addresses, or phone numbers are never published.

Student Use of Electronic and Recording Devices 5330: Expectation of Privacy

Source: web page, section 'Student Use of Electronic and Recording Devices - 5330'

Taking photos or making audio or video recordings without permission in any context in which the person has a reasonable expectation of privacy such as private offices, restrooms, changing rooms, labs, classrooms, and conference rooms is prohibited. Only persons authorized by the building administrator will be allowed to photograph or record in restricted areas for specific purposes. These persons might include media or yearbook photojournalists.

It is also not acceptable to publish pictures or recordings taken in an inappropriate situation or generated using AI or other electronic platforms. In other words, a picture or recording taken under prohibited conditions is also prohibited from being published. This includes pictures taken off district property and brought to the district for distribution. Transmission on the Internet constitutes publication. … The use of electronic devices to transmit or record images or conversations without explicit permission and acknowledgment of all parties is prohibited. Exceptions for law enforcement purposes may be granted. Any other exceptions must comply with applicable policies and laws and be approved by the Superintendent or designee.
